CENTRAL BRIDGE TOLLS TO BE VERY SUBSTANTIALLY REDUCED

The Smith-Armstrong Crowd Outwitted.

H. Y. Stillman et al Precipitate an Unexpected Coup—Minority In The Saddle.

* * *

At an adjourned meeting of the stockholders of the Daytona Bridge Company which was held yesterday, Dr. W. P. Langworthy, W. A. Langworthy, H. Y. Stillman, G. G. Langworthy and F. A. Ronal were elected directors, and at a subsequent meeting of the directors Dr. W. P. Langworthy was elected president and H. Y. Stillman secretary and treasurer.

The above statement will appear as somewhat remarkable to all who understand the conditions prevailing among the stockholders of the Central Bridge.

Messrs. B. A. Armstrong, B. L. Armstrong and L. O. Smith control the stock of the bridge by a majority of four shares over the stock owned by the minority stockholders, and the majority stockholders have been running the affairs of the bridge to suit their own fancy.

The minorityites put their wits to work with the result that they handed him a juicy lemon yesterday, however. This is all happened this way: The annual meeting was to have been held some time ago, but the Armstrong-Smith crowd, by its majorities and the minority stockholders adjourned to a stated time and place. When the stated time arrived neither Messrs. Armstrong and Smith, who are both in Daytona, did not appear at the stated place, so another adjournment was taken to Thursday of last week. Again the minority stockholders assembled, but B. A. Armstrong and L. O. Smith were again conspicuous by their absence, and another adjournment was taken to 10 o'clock yesterday. You see, all these adjournments are necessary as the majority stockholders do not own stock enough and control votes enough to constitute a quorum.

But here is where the tactics of the minorityites came into play:

The minority stockholders again assembled yesterday morning at the office of Dr. Langworthy—they were four votes short of a quorum—as the meeting took a recess and H. Y. Stillman, Dr. W. P. Langworthy and W. A. Langworthy drove to the home of Mr. Armstrong with the proxies of the other minority stockholders in their pockets. Mr. Armstrong invited them into his house, and they stated that they met that morning as per adjournment and being still a quorum repaired to lock. Mr. Stillman stated that he thought they should elect Dr. W. P. Langworthy, W. A. Langworthy, F. A. Ronal, L. G. Langworthy and H. Y. Stillman as directors, and see what they could do with a bridge. Mr. Armstrong failed no objection, but, stated you with him in the room a quorum was present, rather than a cat could against Mr. Stillman moved that the persons named be elected directors and the secretary be instructed to call a meeting of the directors. W. A. Langworthy seconded the motion, and before Mr. Armstrong could have the room, which he did as quickly as possible, the motion had been put by Dr. Langworthy, who held the floor, and it carried.

So there you are. A resolution was then adopted requesting the directors to reduce the tolls.

Subsequently the directors held a meeting and elected Dr. Langworthy president and H. Y. Stillman secretary and treasurer.

For a long time the minority stockholders have advocated a reduction of tolls but were helpless as long as the Armstrong-Smith stockholders thought otherwise. The public have long agreed with the minority stockholders that a substantial reduction in tolls on the Central Bridge would not jeopardize the stockholders and at the same time would be pleasing to those who are compelled to cross the Halifax River.

At the next meeting of the Board of County Commissioners the newly elected directors intend to appear and ask that a substantial reduction be officially recognized.

Thus endeth another chapter.

REVELRIES WERE BACCHANALIAN

Wickedness In High Places As Come Upon By Samaritans At A Late Hour.

LOOK NOT UPON THE WINE.

* * *

Thursday night as a party of lodge members were returning to their homes north of the city, at about 11 o'clock, they found an opportunity to practice the lesson of relief to intensity in distress by rescuing a carriage load of unfortunates from the ditch alongside the river road, in the southern section of Holly Hill.

Their assistance was not withheld but their disgust was great on finding that the party was a mixed one of blacks and whites who had evidently been imbibing too freely at one of the wine gardens of our neighbors to the north.

The white man, who answered to the name of "Berk," was sober enough to appreciate the situation, but his "lady" companion was too far gone to see anything but the "funny" side of the affair and would not even assist in the extent of sighting from the carriage, which had been backed into the ditch in an attempt to turn round in the narrow road-way.

The horse was taken from the vehicle, as he either could not or would not pull it out, and the carriage was dragged out by hand, the "lady" in the case from her position on the front seat encouraging the ormation with loud laughter and timely suggestions to the relief party. The harness was repaired after a fashion and the night revelers were headed for Daytona. The party consisted of a white man and woman and a colored man and woman, and the horse attached to the surrey was a gray.

DEATH'S CALL IS SUDDEN.

* * *

This morning at five a. m., Wm. McConnell, a prominent Philadelphian, arose and dressed himself for the day. A suffocating feeling coming over him he sat down in his chair and expired almost instantly. His wife was present and the shock was well nigh crushing.

Mr. McConnell came to Daytona the 11th of December and stopped at the Morgan, as he his custom, having been here several previous winters. He had been apparently in his usual health and only once this winter had complained of not feeling well.

Last night Mr. McConnell tho' in his 72d year, was one of the happiest of a gay throng who indulged in pleasures at his hotel, the Morgan, and for many friends were shocked to learn that the summons came in the early morning. Bingham & Mabry took charge of the remains and prepared it for burial.

THE CHURCH RECITAL.

* * *

One of the most enjoyable recitals ever in Daytona was given last evening, at the Palmetto Club House, by Mrs. Mason B. Church, soprano, assisted by Miss Evelyn Atwood, pianist, William E. Blodgett, violinist, and Siegfred Broeder, violincellist. Mrs. Church was in excellent voice, and has never appeared more fascinating as a singer, than in her program, a varied, and difficult one, which she gave in her many friends last evening. Her voice is remarkably big, clear and pleasing, and seems to be an artist worthy a place on any metropolitan program. It is difficult to single out any particular song to commend on, as they were all good, and sung in so charming a manner, but the song cycle, "Summertime," by Rogers, with cello obligato deserves special mention, as does also the song, "I Love, and the World Is Mine," by Mooney, with violin obligato, which was beautifully played by Mr Blodgett.

Siegfred Broeder is a New York cellist, and although a young man, plainly showed that he ranks with older artists. His playing being especially noteworthy for purity of technic, and richness of tone.

Mr. Broeder was most enthusiastically encored, and responded with "Schumann's Traumerei," which was most artistically rendered. This was Mr. Broeder's first appearance before a Daytona audience, and it is to be hoped that he may soon be heard again. Miss Emily Perkins was to have been accompanist for the evening, but owing to the death of her mother, her place was filled by Miss Evelyn Atwood, to whom the greatest credit is due.

The accompaniments were of more than ordinary difficulty, and there was nothing in Miss Atwood's rendition of them to indicate that she had had but two days preparation. She played with spirit and precision and a feeling for the mood of the singer, which made a perfect background for the work of the charming violinist. The others for the evening were Miss Frances Folsom, Miss Elura Hallett and Miss Ella Williams, three dainty maidens in dainty blue, who did their part toward making the occasion the success it was.

The many friends of Mrs Church, who were given the opportunity to hear her at her best, amply showed their appreciation of this charming evening.

BIG STICK ON CENSUS BILL.

* * *

(By United Press.)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—In a ringing message President Roosevelt today returned to the House without his approval the bill providing for taking the thirteenth census. His principal reason for refusing the measure is that the bill contemplates the employment of employees for the census after non-competitive examinations, which he declares is a return to the old spoils system. He also writes the bill amended so that all printing done outside of the government printing shop will be done under eight-hour law.

JOY AT NIGHT; DEATH IN MORN.

The guests of the Morgan enjoyed a pleasant evening yesterday, the occasion being in honor of Mr. and Mrs Edward Arthur Sullivan's first marriage anniversary. Mr. Sullivan is a wholesale grocer of Cleveland, Ohio, and he and his young wife are season guests.

The parlor was beautifully decorated and a course was taken when delightful refreshments were served.

The gay party indulged in many pleasures, dancing being one of the chief diversions. A prominent and happy figure in the evening's festivities was Wm. McConnell of Philadelphia who was in his seventy-second yr. At five o'clock this morning he arose, dressed himself and sitting down in his chair peacefully expired, his wife standing at his side.

It has been the practice of the Association heretofore to elect officers at their first meeting after the race, but as the races came at different times in different years it was thought best to fix a date and make it uniform.

The names of seven new members were added to the list last night as follows: Geo. H. Farrell, C. A. Lore, N. M. Kauffman, C. M. Broadwater, Jos. H. Baker, Harmon Suits and Chas. Blum.

A Word To Speeding Auto Drivers.

One Hotel After Another is Announcing "Our Rooms Are All Taken."

* * *

Yesterday Manager Fultz, of the Ivy Lane Inn, joined the chorus which has started and announced that he can accommodate no more guests. Daytona is immensely popular, and every season finds herself unable at some time to accommodate the multitudes which seek admission through her gates. During the past summer there have been some large additions to several hostelries, and with the numerous cottages it is hoped the enlarged capacity will enable the city this season to accommodate all who wish to make a visit to Florida's most beautiful winter resort.

If you do not know, it is worth remarking that Daytona has a larger number of hotels, and as one might suppose, a greater variety of accommodations and prices than has any other Florida city. This city ratches them all because she has made the amplest provision for their needs and comforts.

Now that a number of the hotels are clerk-a-block, and the incoming tide is strong, the streets present a busy and animated appearance. It may be opportune in this connection to suggest that chauffeurs and drivers of automobiles slacken their speed somewhat and observe strictly the rules of the road. Above all, proceed carefully around the street corners, and don't fail to "honk" on turning the corners. Beach street is all but congested every day, and ready nerves, cool heads, and the utmost care must be exercised or somebody will be maimed if not killed.

Several times already serious results have been narrowly averted. With the daily increase in number of pedestrians, bicyclists, carriages, trap, motorcycles and whatnot, the dangers increase correspondingly, and it behoves everybody to exercise the utmost caution.

Bear in mind that there is a speed limit, and that on Beach street is where you should observe the maximum of speed. Marshal Myers will spend much of his time on Beach, and if you transcend the limits regarded as essential for safety, he will give you an opportunity to explain yourself before His Honor, the Mayor.

Returns to Cincinnati.

G. R. Wilder, familiarly known to the older residents of Daytona as "Dick" Wilder, who for a number of years ran from Cincinnati about three weeks ago, was severely injured by falling, or being knocked down, in Jacksonville, was taken back to Cincinnati the forepart of this week. At the time of the injury he was carried to the Lodge & Hospital, from which institution he was removed to Cincinnati, still in very poor condition, and it is considered doubtful if he will ever fully recover. He received a bad wound to the head, which has left him almost helpless.

CENTRAL BRIDGE TOLLS TO BE VERY SUBSTANTIALLY REDUCED

The Smith-Armstrong Crowd Outwitted.

H. Y. Stillman et al Precipitate An Unexpected Coupe—Minority In The Saddle.

* * *

At an adjourned meeting of the stockholders of the Daytona Bridge Company which was held yesterday Dr. W. P Langworthy, W. A. Langworthy, H. Y. Stillman, L. G Langworthy and F. A Newall were elected directors, and at a subsequent meeting of the directors Dr. W. P. Langworthy was elected president and H. Y Stillman secretary and treasurer.

The above statement will appear as somewhat remarkable to all who understand the conditions prevailing among the stockholders of the Central Bridge

Messrs. B. A. Armstrong, B. L. Armstrong and L. O. Smith control the stock of the bridge by a majority of four shares over the stock owned by the minority stockholders, and the majority stockholders have been running the affairs of the bridge to suit their own fancy.

The minorityites put their wits to working with the result that they handed them a juicy lemon yesterday, however. It all happened this way: The annual meeting was to have been held some time ago, but the Armscrong-Smith votes failed to materialize and the minority stockholders adjourned to a stated time and place When the stated time rolled around Messrs Armstrong and Smith, who are both in Daytona, did not appear at the stated place, so another adjournment was taken to Thursday of last week. The minority stockholders again solemnly assembled, but B. A. Armstrong and L. O. Smith were again conspicuous by their absence, and another adjournment was taken to 10 o'clock yesterday. You see, all these adjournments were necessary as the minority stockholders do not own stock enough and control votes enough to constitute a quorum.

But here is where the tactics of the minorityites came into play:

The minority stockholders again assembled yesterday morning at the office of Dr. Langworthy—they were four shares short of a quorum—so the meeting took a recess and H. Y. Stillman, Dr. W P. Langworthy and W. A. Langworthy drove to the home of Mr. Armstrong, with the proxies of the other minority stockholders in their pockets. Mr. Armstrong invited them into his house, and they stated that they met that morning as per adjournment but being shy a quorum repaired to look him up. Mr. Stillman stated that he thought they should elect Dr. W. P Langworthy, W. A Langworthy, F. A. Newall, L. G. Langworthy and H. Y Stillman as directors, and see what they would do with a bridge. Mr. Armstrong raised an objection, but, mind you, with him in the room a quorum was present. Quicker than a cat could squint Mr. Stillman moved that the persons named be elected directors and the secretary be instructed to cast a unanimous ballot for them. W. A. Langworthy seconded the motion, and before Mr Armstrong could leave the room, which he did as quickly as possible, the motion had been put by Dr. Langworthy, who held the chair, and it carried.

So there you are. A resolution was then adopted requesting the directors to reduce the tolls

Subsequently the directors held a meeting and elected Dr. Langworthy president and H. Y. Stillman secretary and treasurer.

For a long time the minority stockholders have advocated a reduction of tolls but were helpless as long as the Armstrong-Smith stockholders thought otherwise. The public have long agreed with the minority stockholders that a substantial reduction in tolls on the Central Bridge would not pauperize the stockholders and at the same time would be pleasing to those who are compelled to cross the Halifax River.

At the next meeting of the Board of County Commissioners the newly elected directors intend to appear and ask that a substantial reduction be officially recognized.

[By United Press.]

WASHINGTON, Feb 5.—In a ringing message President Roosevelt today returned to the House without his approval the bill providing for taking the thirteenth census. His principal reason for vetoing the measure is that the bill contemplates the employment of employes for the census after non-competitive examinations, which he declares is a return to the old spoils system. He also wishes the bill amended so that all printing done outside of the government print shop will be done under eight-hour law.

JOY AT NIGHT; DEATH IN MORN.

* * *

The guests of the Morgan enjoyed a pleasant evening yesterday, the occasion being in honor of Mr. and Mrs Edward Arthur Sullivan's first marriage anniversary. Mr. Sullivan is a wholesale grocer of Cleveland, Ohio, and he and his young wife are season guests.

The parlor was beautifully decorated and a recess was taken when delightful refreshments were served.

The gay party indulged in many pleasures, dancing being one of the chief diversions. A prominent and happy figure in the evening's festivities was Wm. McConnell of Philadelphia who was in his seventy-second ye r. At five o'clock this morning he arose, dressed himself and sitting down in his chair peacefully expired, his wife standing at his side

TOURING PARTY NORTH-BOUND.

* * *

The Allen touring party from Norwich, Conn., on a thirty-two day tour of the South, arrived in the city Tuesday afternoon from points down the coast and put up at The Austin, as did the Allen party of last season.

On Wednesday they enjoyed a drive upon the famous automobile race beach, and also drove to Ormond. Thursday they chartered the "Dixie," and took in the beautiful Tomoka river trip, having an ideal day for it. They left this morning aboard the 'Dixie," for St. Augustine, to continue their journey northward.

AUTO CLUB HOLDS A MEETING.

Had An Interesting Time And Transacts Some Important Business.

THE MEMBERSHIP IS INCREASED.

* * *

The Automobile Club held an interesting session last night at its beach home. Various matters of interest in the automobile world were discussed, both in open session and privately.

The by-laws were amended so that the annual election takes place the first Monday in March and the offices assume their duties on the first day of April following.

It has been the practice of the Association heretofore to elect officers at their first meeting after the races, but as the races came at different times in different seasons it was thought best to fix a date and make it uniform.

The names of seven new members were added to the list last night as follows: Geo. E. Farrell, C. A. Luce, N. M. Kauffman, C. M. Broadwater, Jas. H. Baker, Harman Saito and Chas. Blum

Perkins, will be held this afternoon at 3 o'clock from the Perkins residence on South Ridgewood avenue, the Rev. B. F. Marsh officiating. The interment will be temporarily in the Pinewood vault till spring when the remains will be sent to Moline, Ill, for final interment.

A Word To Speeding Auto Drivers.

One Hotel After Another is Announcing "Our Rooms Are All Taken."

* * *

Yesterday Manager Foltz, of the Ivy Lane Inn, joined the chorus which has started and announced that he can accommodate no more guests. Daytona is immensely popular, and every season finds herself unable at some time to accommodate the multitudes which seek admission through her gates. During the past summer there have been some large additions to several hostelries, and with the numerous cottages it is hoped the enlarged capacity will enable the city this season to accommodate all who wish to make a visit to Florida's most beautiful winter resort.

If you do not know, it it is worth remarking that Daytona has a larger number of hotels, and as one might suppose, a greater variety of accommodations and prices than has any other Florida city. This city catches them all because she has made the amplest provision for their needs and comforts.

Now that a number of the hotels are chock-a-block, and the incoming tide is strong, the streets present a busy and animated appearance. It may be opportune in this connection to suggest that chauffeurs and drivers of automobiles slacken their speed somwehat and observe strictly the rules of the road. Above all, proceed carefully around the street corners, and don't fail to "honk" on turning the corners. Beach street is all but congested every day, and steady nerves, cool heads, and the utmost care must be exercised or somebody will be maimed if not killed.

Several times already serious results have been narrowly averted. With the daily increase in number of pedestrians, bicyclists, carriages, traps, automobiles and whatnot, the dangers increase correspondingly, and it behoves everybody to exercise the utmost caution.

Bear in mind that there is a speed limit, and that on Beach street is where you should observe the minimum of speed. Marshal Myers will spend much of his time on Beach, and if you transcend the limits regarded as essential for safety, he will give you an opportunity to explain yourself before His Honor, the Mayor.

Returns to Cincinnati.

G. R. Wilder, familiarly known to the older residents of Daytona as "Dick" Wilder, while on his way to this city from Cincinnati about three weeks ago, was severely injured by falling, or being knocked down, in Jacksonville, was taken back to Cincinnati the forepart of this week. At the time of the injury he was carried to St. Luke's Hospital, from which institution he was removed to Cincinnati, still in very poor condition, and it is considered doubtful if he will ever fully recover. He received a bad wound in the head, which has left him almost helpless.

Seabreeze News

SEABREEZE, Feb. 3.—B. B. Bledsoe, a prominent contractor and builder, of Louisville, Ky., who is spending the winter at Daytona, was calling on friends at Seabreeze yesterday afternoon.

Capt. Richard Marks and wife, of Sanford, the former a brother-in-law of Mr. Tomlinson, arrived yesterday on a short visit with their relatives, on Pinewood avenue.

Quite a party will go from the peninsular to Deland Saturday to hear the greatest American orator, William J. Bryan, of Nebraska, deliver a lecture at the Stetson auditorium. The Manning auto bus will be in commission for the following party: Mr. Burdick, Miss Grace Burdick, Misses Iona, Clare and Jessie Tomlinson. Other motor cars have been engaged, and it is likely that the peninsula will be well represented.

Mrs. Thompson arrived from Atlanta last night, and will visit with Miss Russell and Mrs. McCullough, on Ocean boulevard, for a couple of weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Broadway, of New York City; Mr. and Mrs. Phillips, of Sanford, and Mr. and Mrs. Culberson, of Bowling Green, Ky., are recent arrivals at The Mayfield. Mr. and Mrs. Culberson are friends of Mr. and Mrs. Lawson, and are pleasantly located in the same apartment house on the beach.

James Glick, of Walton, Ky., nephew of R. T. Butler, came over from Port Orange yesterday, and spent the day with Mr. Butler.

Mrs. Banks and daughter Mrs. Martin, and little child, arrived last night from West Virginia, and were temporarily with Miss Russell. They have taken rooms with Mrs. Julia Martin.

Mrs. Foster, of Erie, Pa., is dangerously ill at the Seabreeze Sanitarium.

Doings at Daytona Beach

DAYTONA BEACH, Feb. 5.—T. F. Noble and family, of Grand Rapids, Mich., arrived last night from Jacksonville and will spend the winter here.

At a recent meeting of the M. E. Church trustees a committee was appointed to prepare plans for the enlargement of the church, which plans were to be submitted at the next trustees' meeting. It is being discussed generally Sunday that the congregation has outgrown the seating capacity of the building.

The subject of the morning discourse at the M. E. Church Sunday will be "The Helping Hand." The same general theme will be carried out at the evening service, "The Hand of Jesus." The congregation will be treated to a solo, "Entreat Me Not to Leave Thee" —Gounod—by Miss Deacon, at the morning service, and Mrs. Stacey will sing "Guardian Angel," the same author, Sunday evening.

Rev. and Mrs. Bates have been visiting a visit from the latter's brother, Mr. Dreiling and family, who left a few days since on their return to Ohio.

G. A. Stewart and wife and John Burkland, Jamestown, N. Y., are registered today at the Seaside Inn.

Mr. and Mrs. Hughes, who have been spending their honeymoon in the city, left yesterday for their home at Lexington, Ky.

Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Lester, guests of Mrs. Beach, left Tuesday morning on the train for Palm Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. Beach and friend, Mrs. Young, are off again on a boating expedition up the river.

The Dixie was chartered for a moon light trip to Ormond Wednesday night, and a most delightful time was enjoyed. The party spent some time at the Ormond Hotel, enjoying the fine orchestra music. The excursionists were: Misses Wilson, Stewart, Herman, Hubbell and Hull and Messrs. Selden, Booker, Masters, Richardson and Stowmaker.

A Gentle Hint.

A lady who suffered from a pelish boy's fowls that overran and spoiled her garden politely asked her neighbor several times to keep his pets at home, but no attention was paid to her gentle hints. So she set up in an ingenious method of protecting herself. She prepared grains of corn by tying to them with a strong thread small cards bearing the words, "Please keep your chickens at home," and distributed the grains about her flower beds. The chickens came to feast as usual, and swallowed the corn, but preventing the thread until the card was against their beaks. Then they could neither swallow the card nor rid themselves of the swallowed corn. Twenty or thirty of the astounded hens came home bearing the polite request to their culpable owner, who, struck with the method of the hint, promptly cut the threads and cooped up his fowls.—Bombay Times.

Forced Draft Realism.

"How is it that Scribbler's novels thrill with such vital, gripping realism the portrayal of human passions?" asked Dumbbell.

"Well," said Hinks, "when he gets ready to write a novel he orders a general house cleaning, sends for the plumber to fix the gas jets and for the tinner to fix the stovepipes, bids his little daughter to stay at home to practice five finger exercises, hires a street piano to play German, Irish and Italian national airs in front of the house and tells his wife that her family is not as good as his own. Then he sits and takes notes of what happens."—Brooklyn Life.

Seabreeze News

SEABREEZE, Feb. 5.—R. B. Bledsoe, a prominent contractor and builder, of Louisville, Ky., who is spending the winter at Daytona, was calling on friends at Seabreeze yesterday afternoon.

Capt Richard Marks and wife, of Sanford, the former a brother-in-law of Mr. Tomlinson, arrived yesterday on a short visit with their relatives, on Pinewood avenue.

Quite a party will go from the peninsular to DeLand Saturday to hear the greatest American orator, William J. Bryan, of Nebraska, deliver a lecture at the Stetson auditorium. The Manning auto bus will be in commission for the following party: Mrs Burdick, Miss Grace Burdick; Misses Lena, Clare and Jessie Tomlinson. Other motor cars have been engaged, and it is likely that the peninsula will be well represented

Mrs. Thompson arrived from Atlanta last night, and will visit with Miss Russell and Mrs. McCullough, on Ocean boulevard, for a couple of weeks

Mr. and Mrs. Broadway, of New York City; Mr. and Mrs. Phillips, of Sanford, and Mr. and Mrs. Culberson, of Bowling Green, Ky., are recent arrivals at The Mayfield. Mr. and Mrs Culberson are friends of Mr. and Mrs. Lawson, and are pleasantly located in the same apartment house on the beach.

James Glick, of Walton, Ky., nephew of R. T. Butler, came over from Port Orange yesterday, and spent the day with Mr Butler.

Mrs. Banks and daughter Mrs. Martin, and little child, arrived last night from West Virginia, and were temporarily with Miss Russell. They have taken rooms with Mrs. Julia Martin.

Mrs. Foster, of Erie, Pa., is dangerously ill at the Seabreeze Sanitarium

Lumber is on the ground for the construction of towers for windmills for Arthur Badgen and P. G. Ridgeway.

The Child Actors entertained at The Princess Issena, Wednesday evening, to the enjoyment of a discriminating audience.

Forced Draft Realism.

"How is it that Scribbler's novels thrill with such vital, gripping, realistic portrayal of human passions?" asked Danks.

"Well," said Hanks, "when he gets ready to write a novel he orders a general house cleaning, sends for the plumber to fix the gas jets and for the tinner to fix the stovepipes, bids his little daughter to stay at home to practice five finger exercises, hires a street piano to play German, Irish and Italian national airs in front of the house and tells his wife that her family is not as good as his own. Then he sits and takes notes of what happens."—Brooklyn Life.

Doings at Daytona Beach

DAYTONA BEACH Feb. 5—T. I. Noble and family, of Grand Rapids, Mich., arrived last night from Jacksonville and will spend the winter here.

At a recent meeting of the M. E. Church trustees a committee was appointed to prepare plans for the enlargement of the church, which plans were to be submitted at the next trustees' meeting. It is being demonstrated every Sunday that the congregation has outgrown the seating capacity of the building.

The subject of the morning discourse at the M. E. Church Sunday will be "The Helping Hand." The same general theme will be carried out at the evening service, "The Hand of Jesus." The congregation will be treated to a solo, 'Entreat Me Not to Leave Thee" —Gounod—by Miss Deacon, at the morning service, and Mrs Stalker will sing "Guardian Angel," the same author, Sunday evening.

Rev. and Mrs. Barze have been enjoying a visit from the latter's brother, Mr. Detling and family, who left a few days since on their return to Ohio.

C. A. Stewart and wife and John Burkland, Jamestown, N. Y., are registered today at the Seaside Inn.

Mr. and Mrs. Hughes, who have been spending their honeymoon in the city, left yesterday for their home at Lexington, Ky.

Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Lester, guests of Mrs. Beach, left Tuesday morning on the boat trip to Palm Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. Beach and friend, Mrs. Young, are off again on a boating expedition up the river.

The Dixie was chartered for a moonlight trip to Ormond Wednesday night, and a most delightful time was enjoyed. The party spent some time at the Ormond Hotel, enjoying the fine orchestra music. The excursionists were: Misses Wilson, Stewart, Heeman, Hubbell and Hull, and Messrs. Selden, Becker, Manors, Richardson and Shoemaker.

A Gentle Hint.

A lady who suffered from a neighbor's fowls that overran and spoiled her garden politely asked her neighbor several times to keep his pets at home, but no attention was paid to her grievance. Finaly she hit upon an ingenious method of protecting herself. She prepared grains of corn by tying to them with a strong thread small cards bearing the words, "Please keep your chickens at home," and distributed the grains about her flower beds. The chickens came to feast as usual and greedily swallowed the corn, not preceiving the thread until the card was against their beaks. Then they could neither swallow the card nor rid themselves of the swallowed corn. Twenty or thirty of the marauders ran home, bearing the polite request to their culpable owner, who, struck with the method of the hint, promptly cut the threads and cooped up his fowls.—Bombay Times.

The Modern Seven Wonders

Daytona's Incomparable Ocean Beach.

One of Daytona's crowning glories is her incomparable beach. No one who ever set foot upon its smooth, packed sands; no one who ever pedaled a bicycle over its expanse; no one who ever drove a prancing pair of horses and listened to the popping of their steel shoes upon its asphaltum-like face; no one who ever steered a high-power automobile down the broad stretch of water-washed and surf-packed sand but realized that it is a world-beater, a world-wonder. Go stand upon this wide speedway and see the happy souls fill by in joyous mood; and answer whether this is not one of the seven modern wonders.

The Placid, Pellucid Halifax River.

Where think you is water with more picturesque surroundings? Nearly a mile wide, fringed with tropical vegetation, artistic cottages with roomy verandas's looking out upon her bosom, gamey food fishes in countless numbers beckoning, as it were, to those with rod and reel; her bosom flecked with duck and coot and snowy-winged sea birds, which sit about as if for the sport of bobbing upon her waves; watch that lubberly old white headed pelican perch a tall mullet, and that fish hawk struggling upward with his floundering load he snatched from the water.

See the beautiful launches, spick and span, their hampers and lockers bulging with refreshments both solid and liquid ready for a cruise upon her beautiful surface. Take out your field glass and sweep the river from Ormond bridge to Ponce Park light house, then say whether the Halifax isn't a thing of beauty and a joy forever, and one of the modern wonders.

The Enchantingly Picturesque Ridgewood.

Ridgewood avenue is upon the crest of a broad ridge, straight as the crow flies, and the wide-spreading branches of the heavy-trunked live-oak extend their giant arms across this magnificent vista, forming an arch, and from these extended arms great festoons of Spanish moss sway as the trade winds from tropic seas fan them. Looking straight ahead down this white shell street one has the impression of a fairy path with rich draperies but as you move along and cast an eye first to the right and then to the left you see distinguished cottage homes in the most delightful settings.

Surpassing Beauty at Our Cottage Homes.

No one of Daytona's attractions, perhaps commands more nearly universal attention and praise than does the attractive cottage. The owners of these charming villas hail from every corner of the country and they bring their own architectural plans and build upon them, and so the architecture of one section of the country differs from the architecture of another so do our homes differ in outward appearance and structural beauty from one another. There are no monotonous rows of strikingly similar buildings but the eye, as it sweeps by, is treated to a kaleidoscopic change which keeps the mind wondering "What next?"

Streets and Pavements the Most and Best.

Why the Architect of the Universe chose to give to Daytona the most admirable, the most picturesque natural setting of all the cities of the South is not revealed but that such is a fact must be apparent to the most superficial observer. With such lavish wealth of natural beauty it became an easy thing for the hand of man to give the little finishing touches which have brought out the colors and outlines of the big picture.

Man did all this in the laying out of the streets with their wide margins of parkage, the entire city becomes a great park

And as for pavements, pavements that look and act like granite,—whether between the eastern and western seas are so many miles in proportion to inhabitants? Till some unheard-of place reports more and better, Daytona throws down the gauntlet to the world.

Sunbeams, Flowers, Birds and Fruits.

Whatever one's shortcomings and however indifferent or evil-inclined one may be in many things, the mere mention of "squirrels and flowers, birds and fruits" will send a thrill that is reflected in distended pupils and pricked ears.

For every visitor with a space "gopher" there is a home waiting to come out and accept your gift. He will sit bolt upright and gnaw into the most exciting tortive, saucy glances at you meanwhile.

Flowers! Usually fresh and blooming the year 'round. In our yard roses of variegated hues predominate, another has a penchant for the poinsettia and the primroses are aflame; another is hidden in a jungle of tall cane.

The birds flit in, and with their joyous notes help to give fullness and symmetry to the picture.

As for fruits, choice citrus fruits, Daytonan yields the palm to none for quality and quantity per acre. There are acres of citrus groves in proximity to the city, branches bending to the earth with their burdens of luscious golden globes.

The Finest Autos And The Finest Out.

Here is where world's records for speed are broken with every recurring season. Autos the biggest, the fastest and the finest are on daily parade and the big show is as free as the pure articles water from the thousand flowing wells. It is a continuous show with constantly shifting scene. You will probably catch the spirit and when you do the roads and the beach are yours. The Florida sunshine is free, the balmy ocean breezes are free, the birds and squirrels and flowers are free, the sparkling fountain water is free and you will have to go down in your wallet only for rate for the auto and bed and board.

This is no fanciful picture; it's all here. It is drawing other thousands and holding them enthralled, it will charm and hold you. Come and see.

Expert Figuring.

A well known actor tells a story of a never-do-well in a little New England town where he was often spent his summers. "I was walking down the main street one day," said he, "when I saw old Silas grinning from ear to ear. I hardly thought that he was that glad to see me. So after speaking to him I said: 'Why the smile that won't come off, Silas? What has happened to make you so happy this morning?' 'I've been a-figgin' around this mornin',' was the unexpected reply. 'Horrible!' You? I exclaimed. 'Why, Silas, what on earth have you done that for? You know you can't even support yourself as it is.' 'Wall,' said Silas, 'you see, it's this way: I jes' perry near support myself, an' I kind of figured out that she could help up the job.'"—Argonaut.

Not Surprised.

Mrs. Greenery—She must have been surprised when her husband gave her such an expensive present. Mrs. Park—Not surprised, my dear, but suspicious.

Woman's Wit.

An empress of Germany besieged a city which belonged to one of his rebellious noblemen. After the siege had lasted for a long time the emperor determined to take it by storm and to destroy all it contained by fire and sword. He did not, however, wish to injure the defenseless women; therefore, he sent a proclamation into the town, saying that all the women might leave the place unhurt and carry with them whatever they held most precious. The noblemen's wife instantly decided to take her husband, and the other women followed her example. They soon issued from the city gate in a long procession, each one with her husband on her shoulders. The emperor was so much struck with the noble conduct of the women that he spared all; even the city itself was left untouched.

Wouldn't Tip It.

A Toronto man who visited England last summer appears to think that country the champion tip taker. He says: "Well, I had tipped every man from the swell gent who seemed to own the house of commons down to the hireling who groomed the wrong labels on my luggage, and I went into the waiting room on the landing stage at Liverpool to wash my hands of everything English, and what do you think stared me in the face when I had finished? A placard saying, 'Please tip the bath.' I'll be hanged if I did!"

Monuments.

Dr. Griffin—I must say the world is very ungrateful. I heard our profession How seldom one sees a public memorial erected to a doctor! Mrs. Gotight (p—How seldom! Oh, doctor, think of our cemeteries!—London Answers.

Doesn't Always Follow.

The Modern Seven Wonders

Daytona's Incomparable Ocean Beach.

One of Daytona's crowning glories is her incomparable beach. No one who ever set foot upon its smooth, packed sands; no one who ever pedaled a bicycle over its expanse; no one who ever drove a prancing pair of horses and listened to the popping of their steel shoes upon its asphaltum-like face; no one who ever steered a high-power automobile down the broad stretch of wave-washed and surf-packed sand but realized that it is a world-beater, a world-wonder. Go stand upon this wide speedway and see the happy souls flit by in joyous mood, and answer whether this is not one of the seven modern wonders.

The Placid, Pellucid Halifax River.

Where think you is water with more picturesque surroundings? Nearly a mile wide, fringed with tropical vegetation, artistic cottages with roomy veranda's looking out upon her bosom, gamey food fishes in countless numbers beckoning, as it were, to those with rod and reel; her bosom flecked with duck and coot and snowy-winged sea birds, which sit about as if for the sport of bobbing upon her waves; watch that lubberly old white headed pelican poach a fat mullet, and that fish hawk struggling upward with his floundering load he snatched from the water.

See the beautiful launches, spick and span, their hampers and lockers bulging with refreshments both solid an liquid ready for a cruise upon her beautiful surface Take out your field glass and sweep the river from Ormond bridge to Ponce Park light house, then say whether the Halifax isn't a thing of beauty and a joy forever, and one of the modern wonders.

The Enchantingly Picturesque Ridgewood.

Ridgewood avenue is upon the crest of a broad ridge, straight as the crow flies, and the wide-spreading branches of the heavy-trunked live-oaks extend their giant arms across this magnificent vista, forming an arch, and from these extended arms great festoons of Spanish moss sway as the trade winds from tropic seas fan them. Looking straight ahead down this white shell street one has the impression of a fairy path with elfish draperies, but as you move along and cast an eye first to the right and then to the left you see distinguished cottage homes in the most delightful settings.

Surpassing Beauty of Our Cottage Homes.

No one of Daytona's attractions, perhaps commands more nearly universal attention and praise than does the artistic cottage. The owners of these charming villas hail from every corner of the country and they bring their own architectural plans and build upon them, and as the architecture of one section of the country differs from the architecture of another so do our homes differ in outward appearance and structural beauty from one another. There are no monotonous rows of strikingly similar buildings but the eye, as it sweeps by, is treated to a kaleidoscopic change which keeps the mind wondering "What next?"

Streets and Pavements the Most and Best.

Why the Architect of the Universe chose to give to Daytona the most admirable, the most picturesque natural setting of all the cities of the South is not revealed but that such is a fact must be apparent to the most superficial observer. With such lavish wealth of natural beauty it became an easy thing for the hand of man to give the little finishing touches which have brought out the colors and outlines of the big picture.

Man did all this in the laying out of the streets with their wide margins of parkage, the entire city becomes a great park

And as for pavements, pavements that look and act like granite,—where else between the eastern and western seas are so many miles in proportion to inhabitants? Till some unheard-of place reports more and better, Daytona throws down the gauntlet to the world.

Squirrels, Flowers, Birds and Fruits.

Whatever one's shortcomings and however indifferent or even callous one may be to many things, the mere mention of "squirrels and flowers, birds and fruits" will send a thrill that is reflected in distended pupils and pricked ears.

For every visitor with a spare "goober" there is a bunny ready to come out and accept your gift. He will sit bolt upright and gnaw into the meat, casting furtive, saucy glances at you meanwhile.

Flowers! Usually fresh and blooming the year 'round. In one yard roses of variagated hues predominate, another has a penchant for the poinsettia and the premises are aflame; another is hidden in a jungle of tall cane.

The birds flit in, and with their joyous notes help to give fullness and symmetry to the picture.

As for fruits, choice citrus fruits, Daytona yields the palm to none for quality and quantity per acre. There are scores of citrus groves in proximity to the city, branches bending to the earth with their burdens of luscious golden globes.

The Fastest Autos And The Finest Out.

Here is where world's records for speed are broken with every recurring season. Autos the biggest, the fastest and the finest are on daily parade and the big show is as free as the pure artesian water from the thousand flowing wells. It is a continuous show with constantly shifting scene. You will probably catch the spirit and when you do the roads and the beach are yours. The Florida sunshine is free, the balmy ocean breezes are free, the birds and squirrels and flowers are free, the sparkling fountain water is free and you will have to go down in your wallet only for coin for the auto and bed and board.

This is no fanciful picture; it's all here. It is drawing other thousands and holding them enthralled, it will charm and hold you. Come and see.

Expert Figuring.

A well known actor tells a story of a ne'er-do-well in a little New England town where he has often spent his summers. "I was walking down the main street one day," said he, "when I saw old Silas grinning from ear to ear. I hardly thought that he was that glad to see me. So after speaking to him I said: 'Why the smile that won't come off, Silas? What has happened to make you so happy this morning?' 'I've been a-gittin' married this mornin',' was the unexpected reply. 'Married! You?' I exclaimed. 'Why, Silas, what on earth have you done that for? You know you can't even support yourself as it is.' 'Waal,' said Silas, 'you see, it's this way: I ken purty near support myself, an' I kind of figured out that she could finish up the job.' "—Argonaut.

Woman's Wit.

An emperor of Germany besieged a city which belonged to one of his rebellious noblemen. After the siege had lasted for a long time the emperor determined to take it by storm and to destroy all it contained by fire and sword. He did not, however, wish to injure the defenseless women; therefore, he sent a proclamation into the town, saying that all the women might leave the place unhurt and carry with them whatever they held most precious. The nobleman's wife instantly decided to take her husband, and the other women followed her example. They soon issued from the city gate in a long procession, each one with her husband on her shoulders. The emperor was so much struck with the noble conduct of the women that he spared all; even the city itself was left untouched.

Wouldn't Tip It

A Toronto man who visited England last summer appears to think that country the champion tip taker. He says: "Well, I had tipped every man from the swell gent who seemed to own the house of commons down to the hireling who gummed the wrong labels on my luggage, and I went into the waiting room on the landing stage at Liverpool to wash my hands of everything English, and what do you think stared me in the face when I had finished? A placard saying, 'Please tip the basin.' I'll be hanged if I did!"

Are Coming Strong—See Them Go

—Rifles Make Gain On Daytona High School.

Every day now the ballot boxes are fuller. Votes are coming in with a rush. Everybody gets a few but the most of them center around the first few in the race, both in and out of Daytona, although now and then some tail-ender makes a big vote just to make the leaders nervous and wonder if something phenominal is going to happen.

The Daytona high school had a fairly large vote, but the Rifles made a gain of nine thousand, and way down the line the Elks came up with thirty thousand putting them right on the heels of Miss Jean Frances Cornet.

Outside of Daytona the Wilman's opera house made another of those wholesale slaughters, nearly sixteen thousand this time. This vote put them away over the 300,000 mark.

Every one voting in this contest should be careful to cast their votes before the expiration of the date punched on the ballot. Also, when getting votes be careful to see that they are marked right.

The End of the Chase.

Two ladies, friends of the superintendent, were visiting a hospital for the insane. During the tour of the superintendent remarked that the door of the violent ward was being repaired and that the guards would have to be unusually watchful until it was finished. After dinner the ladies went for a stroll down the beautiful lane leading up to the main building. Suddenly they heard footsteps as of some one running behind them and were horrified on looking around to see a disheveled, wild eyed man pursuing them. One of the women quietly stepped to the side of the road. The other, screaming at the top of her voice, ran down the road with the insane chase upon her heels. At last, spent with running and gasping with fright, crouching in anticipation of the blow which she was expecting, she waited her fate. The man, pausing and grinning, tapped her lightly on the shoulder and said:

"Tag! You're it."—Cleveland Leader

The Quest of Truth.

It is a good deal easier to poke fun at history than to write history meriting credence. Mr. Bodley when writing his "France" experienced the force of this in a curious way. He shut himself up in France for years to get the atmosphere and the knowledge necessary for his work. One of his trials arose over some question of electoral jurisprudence. It was not of international importance, but still interesting to students of comparative procedure. Therefore he wrote to a deputy who is a parliamentary expert to clear up the obscurity in which the text books involve the point and incorporated his reply in the text of the book. Later, being invited by an experienced mayor to be present at a poll over which he presided, Mr. Bodley put the question to him and received a quite different reply. Finally the author referred the point to a number of indisputable authority, who showed that the deputy and the mayor were both wrong.—St. James' Gazette.

A Sensible Person.

An old Scottish lady during her last illness was assiduously attended by a physician, to whom she invariably gave a guinea when he came to see her. He told the friends who knew she lived that her death would probably be very sudden, and one day when she seemed to have become unconscious the doctor was hastily sent for. On his arrival he found that his patient had ceased to exist, and, taking hold of her right hand, which was closed, but not rigid, he calmly extracted from it the customary fee, remarking as he did so to the attendant friends, "Sensible to the last!"

We give votes in the Bush-Safford Piano Contest.

ARE CASTING LARGE VOTES IN THE PIANO CONTEST.

Are Coming Strong—See Them Go —Rifles Make Gain On Daytona High School.

Every day now the ballot boxes are fuller. Votes are coming in with a rush. Everybody gets a few but the most of them center around the first few in the race, both in and out of Daytona, although now and then some tail-ender makes a big vote just to make the leaders nervous and wonder if something phenominal s going to happen.

The Daytona high school had a fairly large vote, but the Rifles made a gain of nine thousand, and way down the line the Elks came up with thirty thousand, putting them right on the heels of Miss Jean Frances Conrad.

Outside of Daytona the Wilman's opera house made another of those wholesale slaughters, nearly sixteen thousand this time. This vote put them away over the 300,000 mark.

Every one voting in this contest should be careful to cast their votes before the expiration of the date punched on the ballot. Also, when getting votes be careful to see that they are marked right.

The End of the Chase.

Two ladies, friends of the superintendent, were visiting a hospital for the insane. During the noon meal the superintendent remarked that the door of the violent ward was being repaired and that the guards would have to be unusually watchful until it was finished. After dinner the ladies went for a stroll down the beautiful lane leading up to the main building. Suddenly they heard footsteps as of some one running behind them and were horrified on looking around to see a dishevelled, wild eyed man pursuing them. One of the women quietly stepped to the side of the road. The other, screaming at the top of her voice, ran down the road with the maniac close upon her heels. At last, spent with running and gasping with fright, crouching in anticipation of the blow which she was expecting, she waited her fate. The man, panting and grinning, tapped her lightly on the shoulder and said:

"Tag! You're it."—Cleveland Leader

The Quest of Truth.

It is a good deal easier to poke fun at history than to write history meriting credence. Mr. Bodley when writing his "France" experienced the force of this in a curious way. He shut himself up in France for years to get the atmosphere and the knowledge necessary for his work. One of his trials arose over some question of electoral jurisprudence. It was not of international importance, but still interesting to students of comparative procedure. Therefore he wrote to a deputy who is a parliamentary expert to clear up the obscurity in which the text books involve the point and incorporated his reply in the text of the book. Later, being invited by an experienced mayor to be present at a poll over which he presided, Mr. Bodley put the question to him and received a quite different reply. Finally the author referred the point to a senator of indisputable authority, who showed that the deputy and the mayor were both wrong.—St. James' Gazette.

A Sensible Person.

An old Scottish lady during her last illness was assiduously attended by a physician, to whom she invariably gave a guinea when he came to see her. He told the friends with whom she lived that her death would probably be very sudden, and one day when she seemed to have become unconscious the doctor was hastily sent for. On his arrival he found that his patient had ceased to exist, and, taking hold of her right hand, which was closed, but not rigid, he calmly extracted from it the customary fee, remarking as he did so to the attendant friends, "Sensible to the last!"

POLITICAL PLOT IS CLEARING.

[By United Press.]

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Feb. 5.—An investigation is under way today looking towards clearing up the alleged political plot, the intended victim of which is Lee O'Neill Browne, minority leader of the Illinois House of Representatives. Florence Miller who says she was the tool of certain men seeking to defame Browne, is under arrest today following a sensational attempt to reach Browne at the state house yesterday. According to the girls story certain men told her to go to Browne's home at Ottawa and do something to defame him in the race for re-election. The girl says she hardly knew Browne.
